Serious Automobile Accident On Vineburg Highway July 4th

Feeble Minded Boy Commits Suicide After Murder Attempt

NIEMAN AUTO COLLIDES WITH NAPA MACHINE

J. Matthews, With Sonoma Business Man, Hurt; Mrs. Johnson In Other Car Seriously Injured.

The dangerous "S" curve on the Vineburg highway near the Fox ranch was responsible for a serious accident on the evening of the Fourth of July when the Buick touring car of L. F. Nieman, Sonoma business man, who was accompanied by his daughter, Eunice, William Matthews of Eldridge and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hayward, collided with a car driven by Charles Baldock, Napa garage man, who had a party of Los Angeles relatives and friends with him. The Nieman car and that of Baldock hit head-on and telescoped. Matthews received a deep gash in his head, requiring 15 stitches to close the wound. Nieman, proprietor of the local bottling and soda works, was badly shaken up and bruised. Mr. Hayward was slightly hurt but fortunately the others escaped.

The Napa sufferers were Mrs. Johnston and husband. The woman sustained a broken left arm and two fractured ribs. Her husband received painful cuts and had several teeth knocked out.

Matthews was hurried to Dr. A. M. Thomson's office, Sonoma, for surgical aid, while the Napa motorists proceeded to that city, where they were given aid at the St. Francis Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan, who investigated the accident, completely exonerated Mr. Nieman of any blame. The Nieman car, insured with a Petaluma agency, was almost a complete wreck.

WELCOME, ART NEWBURGH

Art Newburgh and wife of Petaluma are comfortably domiciled at a Boyes Springs cottage for the month of July. Mr. Newburgh, the veteran news writer and city editor of the Petaluma Argus, is always a welcome visitor to Sonoma Valley. His newsy columns make the Argus one of the best papers in the county.

In the old days Mr. Newburgh was a member of the popular dance orchestra, Newburgh and Smith, and played for all the elite affairs over this way. Art was a handsome fellow and as a pianist had few peers.

OLD PIONEER GROVE HOUSE BURNS DOWN

The original residence of old Pioneer Grove, once the leading picnic grounds of Sonoma Valley and more recently a part of the Coney Island property, burned to the ground early Tuesday morning. The house was untenanted since the leavetaking of Wolf Baron, who went bankrupt and lost the property. The only occupants were occasional musicians who played at Coney Island.

Beds and bedding belonging to Louis Parente, who furnished it up for the players, went up in the flames. The fire started near the roof and is thought to have been due to electric wiring.

Will Dine With "Sea Wolf" Cast

Mrs. Charmian London and Mrs. Eliza Shepard will go to Los Angeles July 22nd to attend a dinner at the Biltmore of the "Sea Wolf" cast and directors of the new film company of which Ralph Ince is recent organizer. The new company has contracted to film five of Jack London's greatest novels, of which "The Sea Wolf" will be the first. The second production to be screened will be "The Valley of the Moon." The moving picture people are to be at the Jack London ranch soon to "get" the old stump used as a table by London when he wrote "The Sea Wolf" and to take scenes of Sonoma, Valley of the Moon. Mrs. London and Mrs. Shepard, widow and sister of the late author, were in San Francisco this week on a business conference with Ince and other prominent movie people who will spend thousands of dollars in filming the Jack London classics on a magnificent scale, regarding his popular writings as the best vehicle for the introduction of Ince-Thomas productions this year.

VALLEY CROWDED OVER WEEK END

Sonoma Valley was very popular with the holiday crowds over the Four of July week end and visitors thronged the hotels and resorts and occupied every available room. Both up the valley and in Sonoma people were turned away from the hotels and many guests sought accommodations in private homes.

Fetters Springs hotel and Agua Caliente were filled to capacity and many of the visitors remained after the Fourth to spend their vacations at these popular resorts.

At Steinkamp's, over 200 were served breakfast Sunday morning and as many were accommodated at dinner time.

The baths were very popular during the holidays. At Boyes Springs the receipts were $2000 on July 4th, despite the showery weather which prevailed that day. The theatre was packed Saturday night and dancing to Jimmy Bachelder's orchestra was popular.

Free attractions at Agua Caliente on the Fourth proved a big drawing card, the crowd later enjoying the swimming tank, dancing and other amusements provided for guests. The cooks and waiters worked overtime seeing to holiday eats and everyone was well taken care of.

Mine Host George Fetters served lunch and dinner to over 300 at every meal during the rush days and the kitchen force was the biggest and best yet. Charles Miller presided over the bath house with his usual smiling manner and said he never saw such a towel rush in his life.

The regular July dance of the Glen Ellen Women's Improvement Club takes place tonight and the attendance promises to be the best yet at the Jack London memorial library. Music and refreshments are special features which make these dances so popular.

Gravensteins Being Packed and Shipped; Carloads Consigned To Los Angeles, El Paso

The harvest of the famed apples of Sonoma Valley has started and will soon be in full swing. The packing house of the Sonoma Valley Apple Growers' Association and also the Stewart Fruit Company's packing house are busy places, the association having about 25 hands working at the present time. While the crop is short, the quality is exceptionally good and is commanding a fancy figure in the markets.

On June 24th a carload of Astrachans was shipped from Vineburg, on July 1st a second carload of Astrachans, on July 6th a mixed car of both Astrachans and Gravensteins. The first straight shipment of Gravensteins left the N. W. P. siding on July 7th for Los Angeles, and on Thursday a second car started on its way to El Paso, Texas.

At the association plant, Mr. Voorheis is in charge of the packing force and R. E. Perkins is in the office as accountant and bookkeeper.

Sonoma Valley has had no difficulty on account of new inspection rules but in Napa, where early Gravensteins were not classed as fancy by the inspector in some cases and would not be classified at all because of immaturity, a general protest was filed against officials sent there by the state department, with the result that there was a change made, Deputy Inspector Neilson being transferred from Sacramento to replace his predecessor, who was held to be arbitrary in his rulings. The apple growers of Napa who have now organized, seek a local man familiar with Napa county apples and growing conditions in place of Neilson.

O. E. Bremner, horticultural commissioner of Sonoma county, urges apple men to spray late apples at once, not later than July 18th, to avoid wormy fruit.

The early Sonoma apples have been of splendid quality and it is hoped to make the crop right through so good that the entire harvest will bring thousands of dollars to the growers.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE— SONOMA BARGAIN DAYS

If you have not yet participated in the regular bargain shopping days in Sonoma you have missed something. If you have been getting in on some of the bargains and free offers, you will not want to miss the specials of Sonoma merchants this coming Monday and Tuesday, July 13th and 14th.

For instance, Simmons is featuring a gold plated Gillette razor which is almost a gift. Sharp buyers will not overlook this. Look into the Ford Agency specials, particularly the mirrors. Martinson's Radio Electric Shop is doing it up brown by offering a bargain toaster. Gottenberg Brothers have some wonderful specials with which to stock your pantry shelves. Clewe is giving a special price on cleaners, biscuits and aluminum. Hotz's price on sheets for Monday and Tuesday is a revelation. Burg has yard goods and stockings. Hoyer shines on auto polish. Batto & Sons have a special on giant white asparagus. If you want a nice big pot roast get yours from Maffei on the money saving days at this popular market. If it's a luncheon or dinner on Monday, Tuesday, or any other day of the week, profit by the El Dorado Hotel announcement. If you want to save on tires, consult S. A. Robinson's ad. Grab off something good at Kiefer's, a value in every package. Dave Eraldi is there with both feet on bargain shoes again. The Sonoma Cleaning and Dyeing Works guarantee to suit you with their new fall and winter styles. Read the ad page today and understand why it pays to trade in Sonom .

GROCERS OF THREE COUNTIES DINE HERE

When it comes to good "eats" the grocers of Sonoma, Napa and Marin counties should know. It is, therefore, quite a compliment that the purveyors of eats from three counties should gather in Sonoma Valley for their annual dinner. The good fellows enjoyed the good eats and declare the Valley of the Moon knows how. About 40 were present.

Boyes Springs Visitor Called Over K. P. O.

Captain Wheeler, a well known mariner, thought he would get away for a little holiday over the Fourth of July, far from the maddening crowd, out of earshot of bells and whistles, where all is calm and peace. Secure in the thought that he had left all his troubles behind, he strolled into the Boyes Springs bath house and after viewing the swimming tank, betook himself to the soda water fountain. Now this up to date resort has a radio and its loud speaker was directly in front of Captain Wheeler as he sat down to be served by a good looking young lady. He took little interest in the KPO program until right out of the air he heard his name called. "Page Captain Wheeler. He is wanted on important business by Portland, Oregon." The listener-in immediately tried to get in touch with someone by phone and failing, jumped in his car and sped home. "If it's in the air, we have it," says Fred Partridge, of the Springs.

THIS CELEBRATION HAD A SAD ENDING

In the early hours of the day following the glorious Fourth, to-wit, at 3 a. m., Deputy Sheriffs Ryan and Eberhardt and Constable John Mohr came across a group of celebrants who were trying to help out friends in trouble near Boyes Springs. There had been an auto accident so they said and a woman's pocketbook, shoe and coat lost in the mix-up. The lady had been taken to Sonoma for treatment, but man and car could not be found. By the aid of a flash light Deputy Sheriff Ryan finally discovered the car a Buck roadster, in a nearby field. The driver had evidently run off the road, righted the machine and then attempted to drive over the field to safety. The car, however, got into another ditch and there was stalled.

While searching the car for the missing articles, Deputy Sheriff Eberhardt uncovered eight bottles of good liquor, bonded stuff, wrapped in tissue paper and all nicely concealed in an emergency kit. The liquor was confiscated and the officers returned to town seeking information of the woman who had been on the joy ride, only to come to grief. She was found at a local hotel, sleeping so peacefully that Deputy Sheriff Ryan did not have the heart to awaken her for interrogation, although a badly cut arm showed the need of medical attention. In the morning the lady was questioned but discreetly refused to discuss the case, beyond stating that the driver of the car was a Mr. Johnson.

The car was traced through its license number and found to belong to a San Francisco man. It was placed in a local garage.

The Fourth of July liquor which was to have made a joyful holiday, will sink deep into Mother Earth who will drink it up as though it were water. Destruction awaits it.

HARD FEELINGS LEAD TO TRAGEDY LAST SUNDAY

Mexican Youths Quarrel and Garcia Torres, Believing He Had Killed John Agala, Takes Own Life.

Bad blood between two Mexican youths, who had been inmates of the Sonoma State Home for the feeble minded at Eldridge, led to a tragedy at the Reynolds ranch Sunday near Glen Ellen, where a crew of inmates are engaged in harvesting hay.

Garcia Torres, who had been sent to the institution from Fresno, and John Agala, former reform school boy, were at outs, Torres having the queer idea that his countryman was continually slandering him. Brooding over the fancied wrong being done him, the unfortunate youth, 18 years of age, broke into a suit case belonging to Archie Seabright, an attendant, in charge of the ranch crew, and took from it a revolver and a number of shells. Loading the gun he went looking for his enemy and upon meeting him in one of the farm buildings, fired at Agala without warning. The shot went wild, but Agala, falling in a faint from fear, was thought by Torres to have been fatally wounded. The boy then turned the gun on himself and a shot through his brain was responsible for instant death.

Agala recovered and the suicide's body was removed to Eldridge, where an inquest was held by Coroner Frank Phillips.

VAUDEVILLE AND DANCE FOR ST. FRANCIS CHURCH

It has been a long time since Sonoma has seen a good vaudeville show but Friday evening, July 24th, there will be many clever numbers on the big bill to be presented at the Boyes Springs theatre for the benefit of St. Francis church. Talented dancers, singers, comedians and black face artists will contribute their talent to aid Father Byrne in his good work in this parish. Dancing will follow the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen returned home Wednesday evening after a three weeks camping trip near Seneca, in Plumas county.

On the night of July 4th there was a very enjoyable out of door party given at the lake on the Jack London ranch by Mr. and Mrs. Irving Shepard. After a swim a huge camp fire was builded and the camp fire festivities culminated in a supper to which all did ample justice.

Those who attended the party were Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Weise, Miss Davidson, Harold Weise, Mrs. Marie Johnson, Miss H. Lowry, Mr. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luttrell, Mr. and Mrs. William Dudley, Miss Pearl Vaughan of Hanford, and Mr. and Mrs. Shepard.

NOW THEY'D PROHIBIT KNOWLEDGE

William Jennings Byran, as queer and brilliant as ever, is on the ground for the war against evolution in the State of Tennessee. The craze of prohibiting things in America hit Tennessee so hard that it passed a law prohibiting the teaching of evolution's theory in the public schools. The fanatics who put over this ridiculous piece of State legislation evidently believed they were doing some thing tantamount to getting passes through the Pearly Gates, and could make Christians out of everybody, providing they were not put in possession of queer theories such as the origin of the species. So they slipped on the law which made it a crime to teach in the public schools Darwin's idea of life. Straightway a test case was started by the enlightened people of the Southern State—people who believe that knowledge is power, power to think and use the wonderful faculties with which man has been endowed, to accept or reject Darwin, to study and reflect upon the Bible, to sift and garner what is best for development and progress on this sphere, and to strive toward the idealism which may be preparatory to a higher spiritual state.

Bryan, who would exclude the teaching of science in the schools and is irreconcilable to the theory that evolution and religion are reconcilable, has drawn a sharp line in the contest and contends that Christianity will eventually die if evolution is sustained. His opinion is so ridiculous and such an effront to the Christian spirit of the age, a spirit deep within us all, that it is pitiul to cofntemplate the energy he will expend when he locks horns with Clarence Darrow, of opposing counsel, fire-eater, who will attempt to make a monkey of William Jennings despite his protestations.

Our public schools must be open and free for the teaching of all knowledge, the power to think be developed and the fact that we see such earnest, college-bred Christians, full of faith and the acceptance of the Bible's teachings, is evidence enough that either science and religion are reconcilable or that religion's transcendent light reveals the real truth and lights the way for progress and civilization. To repress, forbid and prohibit freezes the soul which has been given us to enrich the world. Man's power of discrimination leads on and upward. The glorious handiwork of the Creator makes all the laboratories and scientific data in the world puny evidence unless linked with the divine.

STATES REPORT ON PROHIBITION

Yes, it's an outrage that the Mayor of our sister city, Sausalito, should be suspected of being in cahoots with the bootlegging game, but from all over the United States awful reports of the failure of prohibition continue to pour in.

From Iowa, good old Ioaw, the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League renders a report in which he says "violation of the prohibition laws in five Mississippi Valley cities ranges from almost open sale of intoxicants over the bars of saloons to nunmerous 'canned heat' jags in lieu of something better. It is believed that more stills exist in a given area around Dubuque than in any other place in the United States."

The report states that the laws must be enforced with utmost rigidity or the people of Iowa must face possible modification.

Minnesota reports a condition similar to what we have seen in California since wine dumping and hip pocket tippling have become popular pastimes. A Minnesota correspondent says:

"In place of having our soft drink stand, in a village or city, selling liquors, we now have from ten to 25 homes, hotel rooms, office rooms, grocery stores, harness shops, shoemakers, garages, etc., selling same. But the worst of all is the autos. They come to the country dances with 50 to 100 pints and in a half an hour they are sold out, and not only one but three to four cars at every one of these country dances, and then they sure have one hell of a time. I met a man and car at Eden Valley, Minn., making a house to house canvass, selling moonshine for $1.25 a quart, and I understand it was a farmer's son. The old man is making the same."

WOULD TAKE OPTION TO SUBDIVIDE LAND

Land in the vicinity of Verano owned by Mr. and Mrs. Blesch, L. Mouyer, S. Rosenthal, Max Morris and Mrs. Farrell, comprising in all several hundred acres, is reported to have interested a group of San Francisco realtors who would subdivide it. The interested parties are said to be the same men who are selling off Lake county lots and villa sites with much publicity and considerable success.

While only a small deposit is up on the Sonoma Valley transaction, and parties to the deal are non-committal, S. Rosenthal, who is said to have interested the real estate people in Sonoma Valley, is very enthusiastic over the prospects. According to Rosenthal a previous option on one of the pieces of property which ties up considerable wanted acreage is holding up the deal. "That option was for cow pasture purposes," declares Rosenthal, "and here is a chance to subdivide and make all this Valley of the Moon property a select residence district. This opportunity should not be neglected."

ABATEMENT ACTION AGAINST ROSSI RESORT

The deputy district attorney of Sonoma County, H. B. Churchill, has started action to abate the pioneer resort at El Verano owned by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rossi.

Several other Sonoma county places are slated for the padlock, due to prohibition violations and the matter will subsequently come up in the superior court.

The padlock method has been vigorously tried in the East but a United States attorney states that the courts are so congested with liquor cases that hearings are almost impossible.

COMING OUR WAY? RATHER!

Indicating San Francisco's remarkable growth in the last year, both as to automobiles and population, the transportation companies reported the first of this week that all records had been smashed in the week end exodus of vacationists over the Fourth.

More than 200,000 people left San Francisco by motor, rail and water, a check-up of the ferry and railroad companies showed. Returning vacationists to the city from Marin county alone, the Golden Gate Ferry ran automobile boats on a 15 minute schedule all Sunday night and at 8 o'clock Monday morning a line of cars still waited in Sausalito.

Special trains to points down the peninsula were jammed, and all regular trains hauled extra cars. Added to the thousands who went out by rail were the thousands who traveled in private machines. The peninsula highways swarmed with cars running humper to bumper until early Monday morning.

The Golden Gate Ferry transported more than 11,000 machines, with an average of four passengers each, from San Francisco to Sausalito during Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Northwestern Pacific carried more than 3000, and the Southern Pacific ferries to Oakland took over more than 2000. The new Richmond ferry alone handled more than 1000 cars.

Sausalito, swamped with automobiles to and from the city, swore in a corps of special police to handle the traffic situation. Back of Sausalito traffic police made scores of arrests as tardy vacationists sped for the ferry loading slips.

At the height of the rush, two lines of cars waiting for the Northwestern and Golden Gate ferries, stretched for more than three miles.—Examiner.

Rural Carrier Dow, with the assistance of delegates from this section, of the state, worked hard to have the convention for 1926 held in Sacramento, and when the votes were counted it was seen that they had been successful.

Carrier Dow is the efficient rural route messenger out of the Vallejo post office and is one of the most painstaking carriers in the employ of Uncle Sam.—Vallejo Evening News.

FIRE ENGINE CALLED OUT

Wednesday night about 8 o'clock the new fire engine was called to the Hoyer service station on Broadway where the oil ond gas bench had taken fire, but was extinguished before the fire department arrived. It is thought some hay balers dropped a lighted cigarette into a casing and after they had gone the casing was thrown against the wall of the station near the rack. It burst into flames and with it other inflammables, endangering the entire stock of gas and oil. The fire alarm was promptly given and the quick response was greatly appreciated.

The land is wood and grazing land. The Petaluma Courier of Tuesday says:

Reynaud, widow of the capitalist, and executor of his $250,000 estate. The suit is directed at Louis and Aline Mouyer, in possession of a one-fourth interest in the property, the Central Commercial and Savings Bank which holds a mortgage against the Mouyers' interests, and A. F. Daily who holds a permit to construct and maintain a dam across Caliente Creek on the land.

Mrs. Reynaud, who is represented by Attorney Howell, asks that the land be partitioned and the Reynaud interest set aside for the estate, or if division cannot be effected, that the property be sold and the proceeds applied to cost of suit and counsel fees.

WATT-COPELAND CASE POSTPONED

The suit brought by R. L. Watt of Schellville to have Octavia Copeland transfer the interest in the Watt ranch left by the late Mrs. Richard Watt to him has been postponed until the court vacation is over. The case promises to be followed here with great interest, where both parties to the suit are prominent and well known resident. Dick Watt was left half of the 17 acre ranch where he has resided so many years through the will of his uncle and namesake, the late Richard Watt, who left the other half to his widow with the request that upon her death the entire property should go to his nephew.

Dick Watt grew to young manhood on the ranch which he highly improved and gave his aunt rental for her share of the property. She expressed the desire to carry out the wishes of her husband relative to giving her half of the ranch to Watt when she died. She put the same in writing so the n phew alleges, but upon becoming very ill at the home of her cousin, Miss Copeland, she is said to have sent for her papers, and deciding not to leave the interest in the ranch to Watt. The papers favoring Watt is said to have been destroyed.

The young Schellville orchardist, wishing to settle the ownership of the entire property, has started action against Miss Copeland, who is administratrix of the estate of his late aunt. The testimony brought out promises to be quite sensational. The defendant in the case, Miss Octavia Copeland, is a pioneer dressmaker and resident of Sonoma, the family home having been on Broadway for many years. It was also the residence of the late Mrs. Richard Watt, whose recent death has precipitated the present court action.

O'CONNELL COMES BACK

The base ball game Sunday afternoon at Kenilworth Park, Petaluma, will be one of the best of the season, according to the fans. Manager Robinson of the Petaluma team stated that he had arranged a game between Petaluma and the All Star base ball team which will be staged on the Petaluma diamond, with Jimmy O'Connell, former outfielder for the New York Giants, among the players. O'Connell will play first base and will be supported by all star players.

Manager Robinson states that this should be the best game of the season and that O'Connell should be a big drawing card.

O'Connell is the $75,000 player, formerly with the Giants. He was also the star outfielder of the San Francisco Seals.

He is only a boy, but is a great player. The team which will accompany him here are all stars from the bay leagues.

Mr. Robinson is busy getting his players in shape for the big event at Kenilworth and is hopeful that a large crowd will be present to greet the world famous player.—Petaluma Courier.

BURDELL SUED FOR $100,000 BY HIS SISTER

Litigation involving the $1,000,000 estate of Mrs. Mary A. Burdell, the owner of ranches and other property in Marin and Sonoma counties, was commenced last week in the Marin county superior court by Mrs. Mabel Burdell Lichtenberg, a daughter of Mrs. Burdell.

She filed suit for an accounting and an enforcement of trust against J. B. Burdell, a son, declared in the complaint to be the "dominant factor" in executing the Burdell will.

The complaint asks damages of $100,000 in connection with the alleged sale by Burdell of the Western Refrigerating Company, all of which is declared to have been owned by the estate. Mrs. Lichtenberg asserts that Burdell sold the company, a Petaluma concern, for $65,000, when its actual value was $200,000.

He stepped beyond the limits of his executorship in this instance, and also in the disposal of certain shares in the Petaluma Gas and Electric Company, Mrs. Lichtenberg asserts.

When Mrs. Burdell died in 1900, she left 10 ranches, stock in various corporations, and a large amount of personal property to a score of heirs. The bulk of her property was left in trust for her husband, Dr. Galen Burdell, who died five years later. After Dr. Burdell's death, James Burdell was the active factor in management of the properties, it is alleged in the complaint.

Altogether, papers indicate, Mrs. Lichtenberg hopes to get judgment for something like $250,000.

MERZ WINS IN PROPERTY TANGLE

Judge Thompson of the superior court evidently went pretty thoroughly into the property deal between C. Merz of El Verano and Charles Tamagni of Petaluma, before deciding that Tamagni was not entitled to get $500 deposit back he had paid on the dairy ranch which he wanted to lease. Judge Thompson held in his opinion that Mr. Merz had not receded in any way from his part of the contract and that Tamagni's allegations were evasive and insufficient.

Attorney A. R. Grinstead represented Merz in the suit brought by Tamagni to recover hisd eposit.

EL VERANO NEWS

the finest ever grown in the county, none of them being under 6 1-2 inches in diameter. Escolle always has a record of sending the first Gravensteins to the market.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Kelly of San Francisco were entertained at the Kearney home over the week end.

Roy Hansen, Schellville dairyman, was greeting friends in El Verano on Sunday.

William Dowdall and George Gale were home visitors over the week end returning to San Francisco on Sunday evening.

Again the Irishman wins. Pancho Villa, the Philippino flyweight and champion of the world, was outclassed at Oakland last Saturday. Villa was backed heavily to win, but the Belfast kid was too quick for his opponent. Philippino backers lost heavily on their countryman, and American sports are rejoicing that the honors went to an Irish-American.

Edmond Debats was the winner of the prize on Fourth of July evening at a local dance, he being elected by a large majority of suffragette votes, among them a large number of pretty summer girls, who cast their ballots unanimously for Monsieur Demats, thereby awarding him the title of the most popular shiek in Sonoma Valley. The prize was a plug hat, a package of life-savers, a looking glass and a powder puff. Debats tells the writer that he contemplated deserting the ranks of the bachelors.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Zampa and baby of Alameda were Sunday visitors at the Rovai home. Miss Rovai, who has been visiting with her sister for the past month, returned to her El Verano home.

A. A. Randolph, representing the Fyr-Fyter Company of San Francisco, was at Agua Caliente Springs Sunday demonstrating his fire extinguisher. A shack was soaked with gasoline and set on fire by the demonstrator before a number of anxious witnesses, and with the little fire fighter the flames were quickly smothered, much to the surprise of the audience.

Miss A. Abatie of San Francisco has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Andrew Perrett.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lutgens, who spent the Fourth with friends in Sonoma City, returned to their home in Sacramento Monday morning via the S. P.

Only one accident was recorded in the valley over the holidays. Near Boyes Springs a stranger with a woman companion, turned over, and the car was badly wrecked. The man escaped, but his friend, badly injured, was removed to the El Dorado Hotel at Sonoma. Six bottles of real old Scotch was found in the car and it is thought the couple brought the booze to Sonoma Valley to sell to thirsty tourists and vacationers.

H. Banks of San Francisco was a guest in this city over the Fourth, visiting his old friend and classmate, Eli Boche. Both young men are students at the U. C., at Berkeley.

D. Ricchi, of Sebastopol, former El Verano shoe maker, and an ex-service man, was here Sunday with his family, enjoying the day at the Danieli home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Leahy of San Francisco are vacationing at their summer bungalow in South El Verano. Mr. Leahy is in the customs house at San Francisco. The Leahys have as their guests the Misses Collins and O'Dowd, of San Francisco.

Pete Finnegan, crack Eastern boxer, who trains in Sonoma Valley, recently defeated Jimmy LeRoy in a six round contest, and Knockout Dick O'Brien in the fifth round in a San Francisco ring. Finnegan has not lost one of his 15 fights on the coast and looks like a comer. Finnegan, a middleweight, is under the able management of Louis Parente.

CAMPHOR IS BIG SURPRISE

Everybody is surprised at the quick results from simple camphor, witchhazel, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One small bottle helps any case weak, strained or sore eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. L. S. Simmons, druggist.—adv 12
